WELLESLEY HOUSE

Shortlisted in the Independent Schools of The Year Awards 2020

Founded in 1869, Wellesley House is a traditional, common entrance prep school with an impressive pedigree.

Renowned for academic excellence, Wellesley has particular success helping its pupils to win scholarship places. One in three leave Wellesley towards King's Canterbury; other impressive destinations include Harrow, Rugby, Eton, Charterhouse, Bryanston and Cheltenham College.

A caring ethos and broad curriculum ensures pupils are nurtured as part of a happy family. Art, music and drama feature centrally in school life, while an impressive range of sports, from riding to sailing, provides an outlet for every talent.

The Wellesley community extends far and wide. The affection in which the school is held by Old Welleslians is extraordinary, as is the strength of enduring friendships forged by pupils during their time at the school. Many remain involved and send their own children to the school.

Alumni include royalty, politicians, Lord Mayors of London, First class cricketers, Olympic medalists, actors and others who have contributed significantly in a wide range of fields.

A small, caring, traditional and outdoorsy prep in which everyone knows everyone, all children get a chance to shine and nobody gets lost in the crowd.

LOCATION

Broadstairs is a Georgian and Victorian coastal town at the edge of Kent, 'the Garden of England'. Close enough to London to access the very best of the Capital, it is increasingly becoming home to city commuters. The coastline features many impressive sandy beaches and touchstones of cultural significance include the Turner Contemporary Gallery and numerous links to Charles Dickens, who spent a good deal of time in the area whilst writing.
